Living Costs At New High

OTTAWA (CP)—Living costs advanced during May to a record high level due to a sharp rise in food prices and higher costs of housing and clothing.

The consumer price index, in the wake of the May 3 dollar devaluation, rose two-fifths of a point to 130.5 on June 1 from 130.1 a month earlier.

Today's report by the bureau of statistics did not indicate how much of an impact was caused by devaluation of the dollar's exchange rate to 92½ U.S. cents—a step which increased prices of imports.

The latest index level compares with the previous record high of 130.3 on April 1 and is 1½ points higher than the 129 mark reached June 1 last year.

The index is based on 1949 prices equalling 100.

Food prices rose on a broad front during May, affecting basic foods such as beef, pork, lamb, veal, chicken, flour, cheese, cake mix, coffee, most fresh vegetables, grapefruit and apples. The food index rose more than a point to 125.6 on June 1 from 124.5 a month earlier. However, prices for some products — eggs, fresh milk, some fats, strawberries, orange juice and canned vegetables — were lower.

Housing and clothing prices were the only other areas of the consumer budget hit by increases. Price indexes held stable for transportation health and personal care, and tobacco and alcohol.

The advance in living costs followed a slight decline in industrial wages during April. The index of average industrial wages and salaries at May 1 — latest date available — was 186.7 compared with 187.2 a month earlier and 181.8 a year earlier. The index is based on 1949 wages equalling 100.

Canada's Export Volume Up In First Part Of '62

OTTAWA (CP)—Big increase in sales to the United States and Red China buoyed Canada's export volume in the first quarter of 1962.

Seaway Boycott Lifted

OTTAWA (CP) — Seaway workers were ordered by their union today to stop their boycott of ship manned by the Seafarers' International Union.

Lifting of the boycott came as a result of the government's promise of an early inquiry into SIU "operations and activities."

Elroy Robson, national vice-president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers (CBRTGW), sent orders to union workers to "restore full operations" immediately on the Welland Canal and St. Lawrence Seaway "in view of the government statement announcing a full inquiry."

Milk Subsidy Now Extended To B.C.

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal subsidy of 25 cents per hundredweight on milk used for manufacturing purposes was extended today to British Columbia.

Biggest H-Bomb Blast Shatters Nevada Calm

CAMP MERCURY, Nev. (AP)—An underground blast — most powerful set off in the United States and the first announced use in the country of an H-bomb type device — shattered the desert calm today.

It was expected to kick up a towering column of dirt and dust, leaving a crater a third of a mile wide and 300 feet deep, but as the test site was closed to unaffiliated observers there was no immediate word on how it appeared.

On, Off H-Test Off Once More

HONOLULU (AP) — Technical changes apparently caused the United States to put off for another 24 hours its third try at exploding a high-altitude nuclear device above Johnston Island.

The 100-kiloton device packed the wallop of 100,000 tons of TNT.

The previous most powerful shot here was 74.3 kilotons fired from a balloon in 1957. Today's shot was fired 650 feet under the surface of Yucca Flat, 65 miles north of Las Vegas.

Okanagan Municipalities Blast Home Grants Hike

COURIER BOYS WIN TRIP TO SEATTLE

That's where we'll be next Tuesday... say these happy Courier carrier boys, winners of the trip to Seattle's World Fair. Contest ran for six weeks and more than 400 new subscribers were secured by the lads. The boys, who are looking at a picture of the Space Needle, will leave Tuesday at 7 a.m., under the supervision of Courier circulation manager Ray Forrest. They will be joined by other winning carrier boys from Kamloops, Penticton and Vernon. Left to right are Bobby Summerfield of Rutland, and Ron Winter, Dave Bennett and Bob Giroux all of Kelowna. Story and picture of Vernon's Danny Fawcett, another winner of the contest appears on page 6.

Bennett Called "Reckless" At Penticton OVMA Meet

By JIM BILLINGSLEY
(Courier Staff Writer)

VERNON (Staff)—Mayors, reeves and councillors in the Okanagan yesterday blasted Premier Bennett's proposed grants to homeowners which was announced in Victoria prior to the federal election.

At a meeting of the Okanagan Municipal Association in Penticton, civic official, without dissent, said such an increase (from the present $50 to $100) could do nothing but harm and raise taxes considerably. (The provincial municipal grants would be dropped considerably if the increase goes through.)

Mayor R. F. Parkinson of Kelowna said: "I think the proposal is a very drastic step. I do not think any government or Premier should be allowed to go through with it. It will throw the whole weight of municipal revenue onto the property owners. It will mean a six mill increase for us."

Vernon's Mayor E. Bruce Cousins said his city would lose about $113,000 in revenue which represents 10 mills of taxes. He said: "We are most vitally interested in the outcome."

STUBBORN MAN — One chief magistrate suggested all elected officials in the Okanagan resign from office en masse as a protest against the boost in homeowner grants.

Algerian Dissidents Claim Take-Over Of Oran Area

RABAT, Morocco (Reuters)—Dissident Algerian army leaders claimed here today they have taken over the administration of the city of Oran and the Oran region and were moving to take over the administration in the rest of Algeria.

He said the dissidents had decided to supplant the authority of Premier Ben Khedda's government because the government had violated the Franco-Moroccan peace agreements signed at Evian, France.

Moroccans Invade

ALGIERS, Algeria (Reuters)—Moroccan troops entered Algeria and occupied a military post today, the Algerian government news agency reported.

The agency report said the troops had taken over a military post at Saf-Saf, western Algeria, in the region of the French guided missile test centre at Colomb-Bechar in the Sahara Desert.

Saf-Saf is 20 miles from Morocco.

The region is part of a large area in western Algeria which the Moroccan government claims is part of Morocco, although it was administered by France as part of Algeria.

The spokesman said an estimated 10,000 Algerian — Moslem troops stationed in Morocco were moving into the Oran area to join troops in west Algeria in taking over the administration.

He said the operation was being conducted by Col. Hourli Boumediene, army chief — of staff who was fired by Ben Khedda last week.

VERNON LAUNDRY WORKERS APPLY FOR STRIKE VOTE

VERNON (Staff)—Employees at the Vernon Steam Laundry and Dry Cleaners Ltd. will apply to the Labor Relations Board for a strike vote.

At a meeting held here last night workers refused to accept a conciliation board report that called for a salary increase of 2½ per cent increase in 1962; and an additional 2½ per cent increase for 1963; nothing for 1964 for a three-year agreement with the Laundry Dry Cleaning and Dye House Workers, Local 292, Vancouver.

Employees were willing to accept a one-year agreement with 5 per cent increase immediately.

The Labor Board, Victoria, will now appoint two representatives to conduct the strike vote at the Vernon plant at the board's convenience.

NO DESPAIR ON ECM

Prime Minister Menzies of Australia said today he has not reached a "state of despair" over Britain's European Common Market negotiations. He said Britain alone must decide if the political and economic advantages of joining the Common Market outweigh the disadvantages. The pattern of trade between Britain and the Commonwealth would not be thrown away lightly, he said.

U Thant And Home Talk

LONDON (Reuters)—U Thant acting United Nations secretary-general, held world-ranging talks today with Foreign Secretary Lord Home.

Thant, here on a short official visit, had discussions with Prime Minister Macmillan Tuesday night.

The secretary-general's talks were understood to cover such questions as UN finances, The Congo problem and staffing of the world body's secretariat.

An authoritative source said Thant's official future also was raised. His term of office expires next year and the question of his re-election is due to come up at the next session of the General Assembly opening in New York in mid-September.

After his 90-minute meeting with Home, Thant was received in audience by the Queen at Buckingham Palace.

He flies to Geneva Saturday to attend the current session of the United Nations economic and social council.

100 More Die In Shootings

ORAN, Algeria (AP)—Shooting broke out again today in the heart of Oran's European quarter where scores were killed Thursday in the city's history.

A qualified French source, who declined to be identified in any other way said dead in the affray totalled more than 100. Other informants placed the figure at "nearly" 100. Estimates Thursday night gave a casualty toll of approximately 60 dead and more than 100 wounded.

There were no immediate reports of casualties in today's shooting. A new curfew was declared for the city at noon.

Judge Orders Youths Spanked

WHITING, Ind. (AP)—Three youths, among nine who were given unusual punishments by city Judge William Obermiller Thursday night, were spanked by two policemen and a bailiff.

Each youth got 15 solid whacks, as ordered by the judge. They stood before the judge as the policemen and court bailiff administered the spankings with their hands on the seats of the teen-agers' pants.

Some 250 persons who jammed the courtroom witnessed the spankings.

Soblen Carries Fight Against US To UK Courts

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Robert Soblen, convicted spy who tried to kill himself rather than go into an American prison for life today carried his fight to the British courts to escape being sent back to the United States. Showing recovery in a London hospital from self-inflicted stab wounds, the 62-year-old New York psychiatrist won at least a 10-day respite against being moved out of Britain.

Shortly after midnight, a High Court judge issued a writ of habeas corpus. Soblen's lawyers said this means he cannot be ordered out of the country until given a court hearing—fixed for July 16.

Soblen jumped bail and fled to Israel last week after his year-long appeal in American courts against a life sentence failed. He was tracked down and expelled from the country by the Israeli government.

But the spy's lawyers in Tel Aviv made known they are still trying to get the Israeli officials to relent and give refuge to him.

MAY DELAY FLIGHT
The home office had said Soblen would be packed aboard a plane for the United States the minute he was sufficiently recovered to be moved. But the prospect of a legal tangle now has developed.

A spokesman at Hillingdon Hospital, where Soblen's life was saved by blood transfusions, said this morning that his condition continues to improve and that he had a comfortable night.

Whether Soblen escapes prison or not, his doctors have said he has only about a year to live as he suffers from leukemia.

Shortly after midnight two of Soblen's lawyers, Elwyn Jones and Peter Solomon, went to the home of Justice A. A. Mocatta in suburban St. John's Wood and obtained a writ to block attempts to move him.

Officially, Soblen has not been admitted to Britain. His status is regarded by the home office as "in transit," a move designed to avoid involved deportation proceedings.

Shriners Give All

TORONTO (CP)—Thursday night 55,000 Shriners and up to 300,000 citizens gave their all in a hard-to-equal parade.

As finale to the greatest hoopla the city has ever seen, 10 miles of Nobles, Potentates, Bands, Horse guards, clowns, floats and noise machines moved along the main downtown arteries. The performance and crowds both exceeded by far a similar march Tuesday.

Torches lighted the parade route. "Your people turned out stronger than anywhere else we've been," said Noble James A. Dallas of Memphis, Tenn.

During the first two hours of the parade at least nine persons collapsed and were taken to hospital.

As the parade dispersed, many Shriner floats and bands started minor processions of their own and ended up in lobbies and bars of downtown hotels.

For many the fun started early in the day. A band from Wichita, Kan., erupted into an early afternoon jam session in the lobby of the Royal York Hotel.

Hordes of visitors meant booming business for city shops but some officials said the bonanza failed to reach advance estimates as high as $15,000,000.

Shriner officials announced that the 1969 convention probably would be held here.

Chicago, New York and Washington were named as convention sites for the next three years in that order.

Frenzied Rio Mobs Loot 100 Stores Seeking Food

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Tanks and troops enforced calm on nearby Duque de Caxias today after frenzied mobs shouting "we want food" plundered more than 100 stores in a running fight with police and shopkeepers.

Mayor Adolfo Daci said 15 persons were killed and more than 100 were injured before units of the 1st Army quelled the rioting and sacking in that city of some 80,000 about 10 miles northwest of Rio.

Two other persons were reported killed in similar but less violent food riots in the Rio suburbs of Sao Joao do Meriti and Nova Iguaçu.

The riots erupted during a general strike called by union leaders demanding the formation of a "popular nationalist government" to settle the governmental stalemate between leftist President Joao Goulart and the Conservative-dominated Parliament.

After conferring with Goulart, the national union leaders called a halt to the strike last night. But union chiefs in Rio Goulart's home state of Grande do Sul rejected a plea from Governor Leonel Brizola. Goulart's brother-in-law, and declared a new work stoppage today.

WITHHOLD SUPPLIES
The food riots resulted from the government's attempt to control prices on such staples as beans, flour, rice, sugar and salt in the face of the nation's spiraling inflation. Storeowners have been withholding their ample supplies of these items in hopes of getting higher prices later.

Long lines of housewives have formed in front of Rio stores this week as good supplies dwindled. Early this week 20 persons were injured in a food riot in the suburb of Nil-ri.

The transportation-crippling strike set the stage for the violence in Duque de Caxias. Thousands of workers unable to reach work milled about in the centre of town and storeowners fearing violence shuttered their shops.

Angered, the mob moved down the main street using clubs, axes, and stones. Shop after shop was sacked.

After only 35 hours in office, Andrade quit on the eve of the strike in a dispute with Goulart over the selection of navy and air force ministers for the new cabinet. Despite the resignation, the union leaders went ahead with the strike to try to force parliament into naming a member of Goulart's labor party to prime minister's job.

Kennedy flew Wednesday morning from Washington to Philadelphia, where, at Independence Hall, he called for an international declaration of interdependence — a partnership with a united Europe.

EXPECTS UNITY
The president's 36-minute speech was broadcast by radio and television. Before him as he spoke was a police-estimated crowd of 100,000, including 42 governors who had motored to Philadelphia from Hershey, Pa. at the conclusion of their 54th annual conference.

Kennedy likened the coming together of the 13 original colonies with the efforts to unify Western Europe. This comparison and his choice of the birthplace of the U.S. independence for his remarks underlined that.

The United States looks forward to the creation of a United States of Europe as one step in a larger design, involving progressive merger of separate sovereignties into some larger political unity.

Series Of Hitches Before
SAO Killer Executed

PARIS (Reuters)—Roger Degueudre, 37, Algerian Secret Army Organization killer, was executed before a French firing squad early today.

His lawyer told reporters the 12-man firing squad hit Degueudre with only one bullet and that an officer made four attempts to give him a coup de grace before succeeding. The officer's gun continually misfired.

The lawyer, Jean-Louis Tixier-Vignancourt, said that after the firing squad marched away and the officer apparently administered the coup de grace—a final shot at close range to make sure the prisoner is dead—he noticed that Degueudre still was breathing.

"He isn't dead," I said to a colonel standing by," Vignancourt said. The colonel replied that it was Degueudre's death agony.

Vignancourt added that the officer in charge attempted twice more to dispatch Degueudre but his gun misfired. He ordered another revolver and finally killed the Secret Army man.

"It was not until 12 minutes after the firing squad's volley that the effective coup de grace was given," Vignancourt said.

Sask. Gov't 'Responsible' For Deaths Due To Strike

REGINA (CP)—The provincial executive of Saskatchewan's Keep-Our-Doctors Committee has passed a resolution saying the provincial government must be held fully accountable for any deaths resulting from the lack of medical attention.

The committee's "determined to redouble its efforts to keep doctors in Saskatchewan and to demand an immediate suspension of the Medical Care Insurance Act."

The meeting, in liaison with a simultaneous session held in Saskatoon, said it is taking steps to establish a permanent office in Regina and plans to meet tomorrow with a group from Saskatoon to discuss possibility of a protest rally in Regina. Rod Thomson of Prince Albert, spokesman for the group, said the earliest such a rally could be held is Monday but set a 10-day tentative time limit.

Plans for a formal motorcade, which originally had been suggested for this week, apparently have been shelved.

'MORE DETERMINED'
"We came out of the meeting solidly cemented, even more determined to fight this unjust Medical Care Insurance Act for our freedom," Mr. Thomson told reporters.

"We feel the fight is not between the doctors and the government but is a fight to preserve our national rights."

Other resolutions passed said the committee supports the doctors and requests Saskatchewan Urban Municipalities Association and the Saskatchewan Association of Rural Municipalities, as a third level of government, to use their good office to urge suspension of the act.

Sask. Appeal For Doctors Brings Wide Response

REGINA (CP)—The Saskatchewan government's SOS call for doctors is getting an answer.

Doctors from Britain, the United States and other parts of Canada now are helping to provide emergency medical services for the province, begun by the first doctor's strike in North American history.

The Saskatchewan government says 11 doctors have already arrived as temporary help and expects the number to grow steadily.

Biggest source of help is expected to be Britain, where 20,000 physicians and 2,400 hospitals have been advised by mail of Saskatchewan's need.

Provincial health officials said British doctors will begin to arrive in Saskatchewan shortly at the rate of four a day. These would include general practitioners and specialists who now operate under Britain's after-noon medical plan.

60 persons are being interviewed at the Saskatchewan government's office in London. These selected are signed to contracts, varying from one to three months under which the provincial government pays remuneration ranging between $500 and $1,800 a month.

Plans Well In Hand For '62 Water Show

Tickets for the 56th annual Kelowna Regatta will go on sale July 15, the Regatta Committee decided Thursday night.

At the general meeting, a number of attractions for the water show were decided, a number of wrinkles ironed out and a number of problems were left to work on.

Dr. George Athans has con-firmly that once again diver Eddy Cole together with Euro- pean diving champion Joe Ger- lach and Irene MacDonald will put on exhibitions at the show. Both Cole and Gerlach are trampolines artists and will give demonstrations.

Canadian swimmer Mary Stewart of Vancouver has been contacted but apparently is un- available for the water show.

Summer Skaters Present First Show Here Tonight

First public performance of the 1962 Kelowna Summer School for Skating will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at Memorial Arena.

The concert is free to the public, and includes seven solos by leading amateur skaters of Western Canada and U.S. and one duet number by Ted Bowman of Saskatoon and Myrna Benedict of Lucky Lake, Sas- katchewan.

There will be several dancing numbers throughout the program with approximately 100 skaters taking part.

Soloists include Miss Barbara Hedges, Chase, B.C., who star- red in the Ice Revue last winter, and Lorraine Smith, Kelowna, who is considered one of the best local skaters. Master Ken Smith, Quesnel, and Miss Jaqueline Pichel, Saskatoon, are among the soloists, along with Kerry Nowers and Noreen Eliot, both of Calgary, who placed among the top 10 of the novice division of the Prairie Figure Skating Championships last February in Lethbridge.

Featured soloist is Vernon's Lynne Sawicki who is the Senior Ladies' Champion of the Oka-

Delegates Here To Attend Meet Of Safety Council

On Saturday afternoon after a luncheon held at the Prince Charles Motor Inn in Penticton the B.C. Safety Council will meet for a regular board meeting to discuss the Council's business. It is the first time in the history of the council that the meeting has been held out- side of the lower mainland.

A total of 31 directors and wives from Vancouver and Lower Mainland, including Executive Director H. Hamper of head office, plus members from Kamloops, Penticton and Kelowna Chapters will attend.

Local Man Faces Charge Of Rape

In Kelowna magistrate's court today, Russell Speers, Joe Rich- ard, who has been charged with rape was remanded for an- other appearance Friday, July 13.

The alleged incident took place June 30. Bail has been set at two sureties of $5,000 each.

The accused is in police cus- tody and will be represented by E. Ross Sutherland.

Kelowna Float Off To Calgary

The city's parade float, wear- ing its "Okanagan Valley" let- tering left Kelowna today with- out the necessary pretty girls.

Heading for Calgary and the Stampede, the huge and decor- ative float will be taken by city employees. Hugh McCormick and Frank Nicklin on their own time.

Earlier it was agreed that to send the Regatta royal party and their chaperones at an esti- mated $600 cost was "unreason- able."

Consequently, Kelowna's Ju- nior Chamber of Commerce dele- gates in convention in the Stei- son City this week arranged for three Calgary lovelies to ride in the Stampede parade on the Valley float.

Estimated cost of entering the float is $350.

FINED $75

John Abetkoff of Glenmore was fined $75 and costs on a charge of impaired driving after he was arrested around 5 a.m. today when RCMP found him

CITY USES EXCEPTION RATHER THAN RULE

The city's been caught with its sprinklers down.

According to a reliable source, the watering system in the city's many parks, which is supposed to begin at midnight and shut off at 11 a.m. has been going full bore all day long.

And with a watery assist from the weather!

Especially after telling resi- dents to observe the sprinkling regulations.

Travis Funeral Service Set Saturday In Kamloops

Funeral services for Richard Travis, 28, formerly of Kelowna, who died in a traffic accident Tuesday near Vernon will be held at 4 p.m. Saturday in Kamloops.

Statistics Down From Last Year

Births, deaths and marriages so far in 1962 compared to those in 1961 are considerably less.

In 1961, to the end of June, the Government Agent's office recorded 208 births while in the same span in 1962 there were only 263.

In 1961 the deaths totalled 108, while in 1962 they were 89. There were 75 marriages in 1961 and in 1962 there have been just 65.

"In other words, we're slip- ping," said Government Agent Ross Oatman.

JAYWALKERS JAMBOREE AUG. 3, 4 TO BE DISCUSSED BY MERCHANTS

Final plans for the August 3 and 4 Jay- walkers' Jamboree will be discussed by all inter- ested merchants at a luncheon meeting to be held Monday noon at the Royal Anne Hotel.

The Jamboree is a more polished version of the shoppers' mall which was held last year at the end of July.

All interested merchants are being urged to attend the meeting, a spokesman said, because the opening of the Rogers Pass should be completed by the end of July and a great influx of tourists through the Okanagan can mean extra business for participating stores.

Retailers having special ideas for improving the Jamboree may bring them to the meeting on Monday or contact committee member Bill Cleaver at PO 2-3331.

HORTICULTURAL REPORT

Cool Weather Delays Vegetable Crops

In its weekly report, the De- partment of Agriculture indi- cates that the current cool showery weather is retarding development of vegetable crops, particularly cucumbers and field tomatoes.

Vernon expects a heavy crop of apples this year and har- vesting should begin in 10 days in the southern regions.

Here is the full weekly report:

TREE FRUITS

APRICOTS: Harvesting should begin in about 10 days on early varieties in the Oliver district— size looks good. Penticton re- ports that some Blund variety are expected late next week in the Similkameen district. Esti- mates have been reduced sig- nificantly here as a result of hail. The rest of the Okanagan reports satisfactory progress with Vernon expecting a heavy crop.

CHERRIES: Harvest on Bling- ing and Vans should begin early next week at the Coast. Oliver reports the harvest of an excellent quality crop is at its peak. Penticton also reports good sized fruit this year and harvest of Bling and Vans is under way. Kelowna states the majority of fruit is of excellent size, and harvest of early varieties will be general on Monday.

PEACHES: Are sizing very well, and thinning, which is completed in the south is still in progress in the North Okana- gan.

PRUNES: Kelowna reports a heavy crop, and Vernon a moderate crop in some orchards. There is some frost injury noted on fruit in some orchards in the Vernon area.

FEARS: Are still continuing to size well, and Summerland, Penticton and Oliver districts all report improved Bartlett prospects.

APPLES: A drop is reported in Summerland. Vernon and Creston, Oliver reports progress is very good in excellent grow- ing weather. Kelowna states that trees are looking the best they have in several years. Size is good in all varieties in the Vernon is, area is generally good for this time of year, with the exception of Delicious variety.

A good crop is in prospect in Grand Forks. Thinning is in progress in all districts.

SMALL FRUITS

RASPBERRIES: First pick has started at the coast, with general picking expected by July 9. Vernon reports a good crop in prospect for the North Okanagan.

STRAWBERRIES: Have been slow to ripen in parts of the Fraser Valley. Rot is becoming a problem in all coastal areas. Harvest is slowly getting under way in Salmon Arm, where cool weather is retarding the ripen- ing of the berries. Grand Forks reports peak harvest, and Creston states they are moving in volume, but pick of the short crop is expected to come to an abrupt end.

LOGANBERRIES: Are color- ing on Vancouver Island. Har- vest is expected to begin July

Low Lake Level Could Harm Swimming Events

There may be dust in the Aquatic pool for Regatta. Causing serious alarm is the abnormally low lake level these days particularly to water show planers.

According to Ald. Jack Tread- gold today, it appears the Lake is two feet below the average since 1946 and is currently 14 1/2 inches lower than the last five years' average although the water has been low for the past three years.

Today's lake level reading is 100.45. The agreed maximum is 102.5.

At last night's Regatta meet- ing, recreation director Jack Brow said swim meets may have to be run in six lanes rather than the standard eight. He said the low water will also throw meter divers off their stride.

HONOR CITY

Fabled Barkerville which cele- brates its centennial this year is Honor City at the Regatta. Invited to attend will be the Barkerville committee which includes Mr. Wallace, chair- man, T. F. Orr, Willard Ire- land, T. R. B. Adams, E. F. Fox, Dr. M. F. McGregor, H. G. McWilliams and Hon. W. K. Kiernan, Hon. Earle Westwood and Hon. Ray Williston.

BILLETING

Billeting for competitors will be in both Junior and Senior High School gymnasiums, Mrs. Kay Wignall told the commit- tee. The competitors' party will be held in the Kelowna high auditorium this year.

The Canadian Legion has also offered use of its space for bil- leting approximately 100 as well as the Curling Club and Masonic Hall.

WATER SKING

The Water Ski Club announ- ced it will hold the Western Can- ada Open Water Ski Champions- hips here during its part of Regatta in addition to slalom competitions across the lake. The lake on the city side is too deep to sink course markers.

City Submits Resolution To OVMA

(By Courier Staff)

A Kelowna resolution to the Okanagan Valley Municipal As- sociation meeting in Penticton yesterday where no employee shall strike until the employer has been given written notice by the trade union of the date and time that the employees are going to walk out, met full approval by the more than 60 delegates present.

The resolution which will be forwarded to the 1962 annual convention of Union of B.C. Municipalities for consideration, if passed would also make man- datory that two clear days, ex- clusive of Sundays and holidays, elapse from the time such strike notice is given.

Kelowna delegates maintain that a municipality must con- tinue to operate during a strike by means of supervisory per- sonnel which means that once the trade union has secured a positive strike vote and has given the employer 48 hours notice of strike action, super- visory personnel must be on call.

SWIMMERS

Committee chairman Murray Joyce told the meeting 75 in- vitations had been sent out for the swim meets, about 65 of which were to swimming clubs; he added there was good re- sponse from Alberta and a num- ber of inquiries from Califor- nia.

He expected bulk of the en- tries would be in by the end of the month.

TV personality Fred Davis and his crew who will be taping the Regatta for an August 22 CBC program will be shepherded around the show by Dr. Mel Butler. All committee chair- men were asked to co-operate.

POSSIBLE AIR SHOW

RCAF in Vancouver have been contacted and some form of helicopter and float plane may be available but no air force bands will be on hand.

TOTAL 7,500,000 POUNDS IN B.C.

Kelowna Area To Share In Huge Cherry Harvest

By SHERRY BAKER (Courier Staff Writer)

Every year purple stains ap- pear on someone's white shirt to testify that the cherry season is upon us again.

This year it is here with a vengeance.

The largest cherry crop grown in B.C. in years is now on its way by truck and train from the province's Interior to markets across Canada and the United States.

Though at present there is little general picking going on in Kelowna itself, and spot picking is not expected to start until the first of next week, the rest of the Valley has not been idle.

General Sales Manager Babe Lander of B.C. Tree Fruits stated Thursday: "The crop is worth nearly $2,000,000 and is expected to reach 7,500,000 pounds."

"Production is 10 per cent higher than in 1961," he added. B.C. Tree Fruits Limited is the central selling agency for all cherries grown in B.C. Major growing areas are the Okanagan Valley and the Creston-Nelson region in the south- ern part of the province.

MOST TO GO

"Most of the crop will go to the Prairies, Eastern Canada and the Eastern United States. We have competition from other fruit-growing regions, but no other cherry competes with the quality of B.C. cherries," Mr. Lander said.

He said that about 15,000 pounds of cherries will be sold in the United Kingdom, a market developed two years ago.

"Cherries are not a major crop in Kelowna as are apples, but this year a better than average crop was expected— Now the rain threatens to change the picture," a spokes- man for the National Employ- ment Service said Thursday.

It was also stated that the processors any spills are inevi- tably caused by a great amount of rain.

Water Flowers Says Retail Association

In response to a request from Mayor R. F. Parkinson and his Council, the Executive of the Kelowna Retailers' Association is pleased to recommend to all merchants on Bernard Avenue that they assist the City crews by daily watering the flowers and shrubs in the tubs in front of their premises.

President Gerry Elliott is quoted as saying that the Kel- owna Merchants are kindly be- lieved City Council in their en- deavour to beautify the City to make Kelowna distinctive to our many summer visitors.

Courier Boys Win Trip To World Fair

Winners of the Daily Courier Carrier Boys' Contest are to re- ceive a three-day all-expense- paid trip to the World's Fair in Seattle, Century 21.

The contest ran for six weeks and carrier boys secured over 400 new subscribers to the Daily Courier.

The city winners are Bob Groulx, Ron Winter, and Dave Bennett respectively, who worked inside Kelowna.

In the outside area including Vernon and district, it was Bobby Summerfield of Rutland and Dave Finney of Vernon.

The five carrier boys will leave for Seattle early Tuesday morning under the supervision of Circulation Manager Ray Forrest.

They will be joined by five carrier boys from Kamloops and five from Penticton.

Sask. Should Call Vote On Medicare Program

At this distance it is difficult to assess the rights and wrongs of the distressing situation in Saskatchewan, but there are certain facts which do form a foundation upon which an opinion can be based.

The doctors are not opposed apparently to a medicare program as such, but they are opposed to certain clauses which would make them mere robots of the medicare commission. The doctors must feel very strongly about this because all indications are that they are presently a very united front. Whether they are right or wrong in "going on strike," is a matter of opinion and the individual doctor's conscience can only be his guide.

The basis of the dispute between the doctors and the government would seem to be that the program was hurried and adopted too quickly. It was done because a federal general election was in the offing and Mr. Douglas wanted the Saskatchewan program in effect because he felt it would help his NDP party in the campaign.

It appears, too, that the two groups did reach a tentative agreement which was subsequently upset by Mr. Douglas by his insistence that certain clauses, objected to by the doctors, be reinserted into the bill.

The government, of course, claim that the doctors are frustrating "the will of the people." Whether they are or not is the sixty-four dollar question. It is true that the government is in power because it controls the majority of the seats in the Legislature. However, it is equally true that the government was re-elected with less than half of the popular vote polled.

Under such circumstances, it is difficult to establish just what the will of the people really is. Are those who voted against the CCF in the last provincial election opposed to the medicare program? If so, on this issue at least, the government does not reflect the will of the people. If, on the other hand, the majority of the people of Saskatchewan are in favor of the government's medicare program, then the government does reflect the will of the people.

The recent federal election results in Saskatchewan suggest that the majority of the Saskatchewan people are opposed to the plan as presently drawn up. Not one NDP candidate was elected in the province. Mr. Douglas, father of the plan, was badly beaten and, in fact, nearly lost his deposit. While the election was a federal one, the main point at issue in the prairie province was the provincial medicare program. It would seem, then, that the people are not with the Lloyd government on this question.

To know definitely, of course, it would be necessary to take a referendum on the subject. This, it would seem, is the only logical solution to the present impasse. It, of course, would take considerable time. And Saskatchewan cannot afford time.

The Lloyd government, of course, could go to the people seeking a vote of confidence. If it believes the people are with it in this medicare program, it should call an election, quickly and with confidence. If it does not feel the people are with it, it had better seek some other way out of the present situation which, longer prolonged, can only cause the province and its people harm.

No Sacred Cabinet Post

Mr. Diefenbaker has announced that there will be no Social Credit member of the House of Commons taken into his cabinet. He stated this following suggestions that a Sacred member would probably find a cabinet post.

If Mr. Diefenbaker did ever consider taking a Social Credit member into his cabinet, he must have soon abandoned it. It was fraught with too many difficulties. Considering just one, which Creditor would be offered the post?

The natural person to be first considered would be, of course, Mr. Real Caouette, self-styled co-leader of the national Social Credit party and leader of the group of 26 members from Quebec.

Mr. Caouette, however, since the election seems to be imbued with a great sense of his own importance. Incensed at Prime Minister Diefenbaker's austerity program, he called for the Prime Minister's resignation. This would seem a hardly fitting platform from which to jump to a cabinet position.

Mr. Caouette has voiced some strange financial proposals since the calling of the election. It would indeed be surprising if Mr. Diefenbaker should consider taking him into his fold.

Rather than calling for the resignation of the government, Mr. Caouette's own co-leader has declared that the thirty Sacred members will support the government's austerity measures. Mr. Thompson would seem to be the most likely Social Creditor to be approached, if Mr. Diefenbaker has had such an approach in his mind. However, in Mr. Thompson's case, the question does arise, can Mr. Thompson deliver the support of the Sacred members to the government? Especially, with Mr. Caouette standing in the wings?

It is a moot question whether Mr. Diefenbaker really needs an active coalition with the Sacred. Liberal Leader Pearson and New Democratic Leader Douglas have both approved the Prime Minister's austerity proposals as far as they go, and seem only to fear that they do not go far enough. The bald fact of the matter is that Mr. Caouette's group is not alone in possibly holding a balance of power over the government. The Liberal party and the NDP also hold it. If either or both decide that the nation's well-being requires that they support the government, the government will be supported, despite the efforts of Mr. Caouette and his friends.

THE YEAR OF THE COMPACTS

Tories Face Bigger Barrier When New Parliament Opens

OTTAWA (CP)—The Progressive Conservative government heads into the first session of the new Parliament facing a much greater opposition majority in the appointed Senate than in the elected Commons.

At the moment, the Conservatives are outnumbered 148 to 116 in the Commons by Liberals, Social Crediters and New Democrats, and in the Senate 4 to 26 by Liberals alone. Even if Prime Minister Diefenbaker were to fill all Senate vacancies with Conservative supporters the situation would not be changed materially. There are only nine vacancies.

To become law, all government legislation must be approved by both houses of Parliament. And in recent years, from a Conservative standpoint, the predominantly Liberal Senate has been kicking over the traces. In the Commons, a combined vote of the opposition against the government on any one issue will be needed to topple it. Therefore, Liberal opposition on a particular government measure can be surmounted in the lower house as long as the Social Crediters or New Democrats or both vote with the Conservatives.

TWO PARTY BATTLE
But once that measure reaches the Senate, the battle is strictly between the Liberals and Conservatives. That's when interpretation by the Liberals of the legislation as being clearly in the national interest—or otherwise—will be crucial.

Whether Senate defeat of any government measure necessarily precipitates a general election, however, is one of those questions of constitutional principle on which it is difficult to get a clear answer.

Informants indicate it is unlikely that the Senate opposition leader, Senator W. Ross Macdonald of Brantford, Ont., will make a statement of parliamentary cooperation like the ones he made after the 1957 and 1958 general elections when public support was unquestionably swinging to the Conservatives.

Now, Liberal sources in the Senate say, day-to-day consideration of government measures is likely to be made with no overriding consideration that the government has a general mandate from the people. Party advantage would support government measures.

In 1957, after the election which ended 22 years of Liberal rule and ushered in a minority Conservative government, Senator Macdonald said:

"... The Senate has not, traditionally, resisted the adoption of any piece of government legislation for which a government has received a clear popular mandate... nor would it, in my view, be inclined to do so in future, in the absence of the most compelling reasons for believing that the issue should be referred once again to the electorate."

REITERATED STATEMENT

In 1958, after the Conservatives won a landslide 208 seats in the 265-seat Commons, Senator Macdonald reiterated his 1957 statement. But he added that Liberal Senators reserved the right to reject and defeat measures they believed were not in the public interest.

Possibly significant in the matter of assessing "a clear popular mandate" were statements made at a political meeting in Cornwall, Ont., by J. W. Pickersgill, front-rank Liberal strategist.

The MP for Bonaville-Twillingate, referring to the popular vote in the June 18 election called Mr. Diefenbaker a "37-per-cent leader" and said "he was repudiated by 63 per cent of the voters" as the Conservatives slid from 208 Commons seats to 116.

Liberal senators generally chart an independent course, holding caucus meetings apart from Liberal members of the Commons. But they keep in general harmony with the Liberal leadership. Among them is Senator John Connolly of Ottawa, president of the National Liberal Federation.

KILLED COYNE BILL

They recognized the government's big 1958 mandate and co-operated — until 1960, when they were successful in a drastic revision of a government measure on compulsory retirement of judges at age 75. In 1961 they killed the government bill to fire Bank of Canada Governor James E. Coyne and also the administration's "class or kind" tariff bill.

Against this background, the government's proposal requiring all senators present and future to retire at age 75 — it would affect 25 Liberals, four Conservatives — is surrounded by uncertainty. There has been no word from the government since June 18 on whether it intends to proceed with the measure which did not advance beyond introduction in the Commons last session.

It drew opposition from some prominent Liberal senators at the time. They are likely to adopt the attitude now that Senate reform is one matter on which the government did not win a mandate.

There now are two independent and one Independent Liberal in the 102-seat Senate besides the 64 Liberals and 26 Conservatives. The vacancies were reduced to nine by Mr. Diefenbaker's announcement of two Conservative appointments last week. He is expected to appoint more soon.

TODAY IN HISTORY

The Lord's Day Act, forbidding all but essential commerce and work on Sunday, was passed by the House of Commons 58 years ago today in 1904 — after a bitter debate during which the strongest opposition came from French Canada. It was subsequently proclaimed in force, however, and has since been widely amended in many parts of the country.

OTTAWA REPORT

Safe Seats For Defeated

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

A vacancy in our House of Commons is opened now and then to facilitate the process of cabinet-making by the prime minister, or to admit a prominent politician who has been defeated in his attempt to win election.

Thus in 1957, Conservative MP C. S. White resigned, opening the safe Conservative seat of Hastings-Frontenac, Ontario, for Hon. Sidney Smith, former president of the University of Toronto, who had been appointed secretary of state for external affairs in the new Diefenbaker administration. A few months earlier, Mr. White had won by a majority of 6,433 votes over his Liberal and Social Credit opponents. No other party fielded an official candidate against Mr. Smith in the ensuing by-election; but an independent "labor" candidate did run, obtaining 266 votes to Mr. Smith's 10,513.

SEAT FOR DOUGLAS?

The latest example of this need is NDP leader Tommy Douglas, former premier of Saskatchewan, who was slain by Conservative incumbent Ken More when he tried to win the Regina seat.

About six weeks ago in Timmins, I predicted that Murdo Martin, the local NDP candidate and former MP, that Mr. Douglas would be beaten in Regina. He assumed rightly that he himself would hold Timmins, and so his reaction to my prediction was jubilant.

"That's fine," he said to me. "Then I can resign here to open Timmins for Tommy, and then I could go into the provincial field; I am the only person who could unseat Spooner here."

Hon. J. W. Spooner, a former mayor of Timmins, is now Conservative minister of mines in the Ontario government.

But Murdo Martin appears to have competition from his colleagues for the privilege of making way for Tommy Douglas.

RED TAPE TANGLE

Common sense can never ameliorate the fastidious routine of bureaucracy. The day after election day, the 1962 edition of the Government of Canada telephone directory appeared on my desk. It was already out of date on that day of publication, by reason of changes wrought by the voting.

Of course the membership of the House of Commons, and the constitution of the cabinet and ministers' personal staff do not make up the whole directory. But it would seem to be the dictate of common sense to suspend printing until these important corrections could be made.

24,000 copies of this directory are printed every year by the Queen's Printer. 15,000 copies are distributed to MPs, civil servants and members of boards, commissions and so on. The balance are sold to the public at $1 a copy, namely a profit of some 100 per cent. It contains approximately 12,000 names and telephone numbers, thus making it about the most costly directory of its size in Canada.

ECONOMY DRIVE

The department of national defence is mentioned as a prime target in the new expense-paring drive by the government. A deserved target. They might start by looking at the free house-cleaning service and taxi service provided by NCOs for brassbands and the like. A common sight in Ottawa is a government car standing outside a brassband's home all day, used to transport two service men who are inside hoovering and washing. Another common sight is the government "taxi" which drive brassbands to and from their office, their wives to and from the beauty salon, and their kids to and from school. Corporals, of course, don't have it so good as generals in this generosity at the taxpayers' expense.

Amelia Earhart's Last Words - 'Out of Gas'

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—"Gas is running low... been unable to reach you by radio... We are circling but cannot see you..."

These last desperate words of flyer Amelia Earhart were heard by some listeners on tiny Howland Island in the loneliest wastes of the Pacific Ocean 25 years ago, on July 2, 1937.

After that — silence. And a mystery that has captivated the imaginations of thousands.

Did the most famous United States woman flyer and her able navigator, Fred Noonan, lose their way and blunder to their deaths in the sea?

Was the end of Miss Earhart's life slain snarled in some eerie way on the sand spit that is Howland Island?

Was she on a secret espionage mission for the U.S. government?

Or did Japanese militarists rescue the two Americans only to take their lives later?

PROFESSORS OF ALL

All these ideas have their advocates. Here is the evidence. Amelia Earhart was called Lady Lindy because of her supposed resemblance to transatlantic flyer Col. Charles Lindbergh.

She had a slender, almost lanky figure, short windblown auburn hair and freckled face known to millions.

Born in Atchison, Kan., July 24, 1898, she learned to fly by the time she was 20. But it was 10 years later that she went along for the ride with flyers William Stutz and Louis Gordon when they flew the Atlantic June 17, 1928.

She decided to make aviation her career and was encouraged by her husband, the late George Palmer Putnam, a New York publisher.

She flew across the Atlantic alone in 1932 and the Pacific from Honolulu to Oakland in 1935. Then she began planning the world flight — her last.

Her global flight was originally charted westward from Oakland.

SAFETY FACTOR

Paul Mantz, movie stunt flyer who was her technical adviser, said he planned it that way as a safety factor — because of Howland Island.

"If she missed Howland, she would have had enough gas to get back to Honolulu," recalled Mantz, who at 58 now operates a flying service at Santa Ana, Calif.

Mantz made the 2,400-mile first leg from Oakland to Honolulu with her and Noonan March 17, 1937.

The next hop was 1,532 miles over water to Howland.

But they didn't get close to Howland that time. As the plane roared down the Honolulu runway March 20, 1937, a fire blew and the plane cracked up. Miss Earhart and Noonan, 44, escaped injury.

The plane, a Lockheed 10 low-wing monoplane that cost $20,000 and had a top speed of 265 miles an hour, was repaired for a new start from Oakland.

from faraway places — Dutch Guiana, Natal, Brazil; St. Louis, French Senegal... Over the jungles and deserts of Africa to Khartoum, to Massawa, across the Red Sea and Arabia to India.

Finally, they reached Lae, New Guinea.

Their next stop was to be Howland Island. But this time it would be 2,556 miles over water — and no turning back if gasoline ran low.

After Miss Earhart took off from Lae, squalls and electrical storms were reported across her flight path.

Now, flying at 1,000 feet, she spoke to Howland Island:

"We must be on you but cannot see you."

What had gone wrong?

"Miss Earhart was due in about 7 a.m. that morning," said Dr. Harold Zaugg, 54, now medical officer of the merchant marine hospital in San Francisco.

"We were on Howland to service her plane when she arrived. It was quite a sunny day."

"She was flying right into the rising sun. She might not have seen Howland."

"We started picking her up quite clearly on our radio. But the difficulty was that she persisted in using her voice when we needed Morse dots and dashes to triangulate her position."

"I think she just went into the drink."

No scrap of wreckage was ever found, despite one of the greatest air-sea searches ever made by the U.S. Navy.

Aboard the searching battleship Colorado as a civilian guest was the late Dr. M. L. Brittain, then president of Georgia Institute of Technology, who later said:

"I knew the Japanese had a mandate over certain Pacific Islands and I also knew of the rumor that they were fortifying and building plane runways on these islands in defiance of treaties."

TAKEN PRISONER?

"I believe there was considerable basis for the idea the Japanese had crippled her plane somehow in Lae or had killed her or taken her prisoner when she reached the mandated islands area."

"I believe there was an understanding on the part of some U.S. government officials with Miss Earhart that she have a look, if possible, at the Japanese mandated islands."

Fred Goerner, 36, who made two trips to Salpan for the Columbia Broadcasting System in June, 1960, and September, 1961, said he had testimony from 10 reputable Japanese and Caroline Islanders that a white man and white woman were flown to Salpan sometime in 1937 or early 1938. That they answered the descriptions of Noonan and Miss Earhart, and that Japanese military police interrogated them as spies.

PEACHLAND CHRISTENING

Christening of interest in Peachland was performed in the United Church to give the names David Scott, to the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. David Lehman of Mt. Vernon, Wash. Pictured with the baby after the ceremony, performed by Rev. C. A. Warren, from left are Mrs. C. F. Bradley, of Peachland, his great-grandmother who made a knitted jacket and booties for the occasion; Mrs. Frank Bradley, mother and his mother, who made the christening robe worn. A family dinner party was held at the Frank Bradley's after the christening.

Picnic Sunday At J. B. Smiths

The Community Hall Executive announce that the community picnic will be held next Sunday, July 8, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bruce Smith, commencing at 1:30. This is a family affair—there will be races, games, swimming and a baseball game at the school in the evening. Bring your own supper, coffee will be supplied, and there will be a booth with ice cream, pop, etc. The cost of belonging to the Association is one dollar per family, and entrance will be by membership card. It is hoped that many people will come along to the picnic and join the Association.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Colin Fagan, Raymer Road, on the arrival of a baby daughter, Linda Alice, sister for young Colin.

The Okanagan Mission Fire Department meets every Wednesday night at 7:30 for practice at the Fire Hall. Any new residents wishing to join, or who would like to help please phone Fire Chief Ed. Black, PO 4-4294.

Kelowna Girl Wed In Penticton

A quiet wedding took place June 30 in Penticton United Church chapel when Dwila Maureen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Houchin of Kelowna became the wife of Barry Ernest, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Rose of New Westminster, B.C.

Officiating was R. C. Gates. Miss Houchin chose a sheath dress and jacket of white brocade with a corsage of pink roses. Her attendant was Miss Jane Hay of Kelowna, who wore a pale green sheath dress and jacket with a white carnation corsage.

Mr. Andrew Frieson of Kelowna was best man. Following a honeymoon to Seattle and Victoria, the couple will reside at Arlington House on Lawrence Ave.

ANN LANDERS

Receive Gift With Thanks

Dear Ann Landers: A great deal has been said about the art of giving but I've read very little about the art of receiving. Will you please say something on this subject?

My mother-in-law makes a big production out of receiving gifts. She glories in birthdays, anniversaries, Christmas, Mother's Day and so on. It's boring and embarrassing to hear her repeat the details of the gifts she receives. She generally appreciates each item. For example: "That handbag must have cost at least $45.00!"

I'm shy about gifts and I'm sure I tend to go to the other extreme. There must be a happy medium. Will you please help me find it?

—SAGINAW READER.

Dear Saginaw Reader: That "happy medium" is a great deal closer to your approach than to your mother-in-law's.

If the person who sent the gift is graciously thanked, this is adequate. Most people couldn't care less about someone else's gifts.

Even when questioned by an interested third party the details should be kept to a minimum and the comments should be conservative.

Dear Ann Landers: I know this is trivial but I believe there's an important principle involved so I'd like your opinion.

I'm a college girl who dates fellows both in and out of school. I'm not proud, but my standards are high. If a fellow doesn't have himself I tell him off and he either straightens up and flies right or I dump him.

The other evening I was out with an interesting fellow. In the complaining tone he whined, "Do you know I've been dating you for almost three months and I haven't tried anything yet?" I was annoyed and replied, "Well, what do you want — a medal?"

If looks could kill I'd have been a corpse that minute. He drove me straight home and I haven't heard from him since.

My mother liked this fellow a great deal and she feels that I was smart-alecky and out of line. I say I haven't lost a thing. What do you say? — DIANE.

Dear Diane: I say congratulations and more power to you.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been saying our dimes for eight years. This summer we are actually going to take that trip to Europe. We've been looking forward to it so long it seems like a dream.

I'm terribly dumb about certain things and I need advice. Do we tip people who serve us aboard ship? Is it in good taste to speak to people in the cocktail lounge or on deck? What type of clothes should we wear during the day? (We know we're supposed to dress for dinner.)

I'm afraid we'll look like hussies, fresh off the farm. Please give us some pointers so people won't know it's the first time we ever saw a ship. Thank you.

—BOUNDING MAIN.

Dear Bounding: Most of the people you'll be meeting have never seen a ship before either so relax.

All the information you will need can be obtained from the travel agent or the person who sold you the tickets. The important thing is to be pleasant and conduct yourselves naturally.

Remember wherever you go your country will be judged by your behaviour. Don't let the strange and the complaining turn you into ugly Americans.

(P.S. Have a good time!)

Rutland, City Senior Citizens Picnic Today

Rutland Senior Citizens Branch 55, held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Quigley. There were 15 members and two visitors in attendance, and Mr. John Wilson, president, conducted the proceedings, which were opened with the singing of "O Canada." Mr. Wilson accompanying on the violin.

Amongst several items of business discussed was a suggestion that the group charter a bus for a tour of the district, at some time during the summer months.

Arrangements were made to hold a picnic today at the Senior Citizens building and grounds in Kelowna. A vote of thanks was extended to Bennett's Stores for the donation of a dozen coffee mugs.

Secretary Mrs. E. Burnell, was authorized to send a letter to the Rutland Park Society to inquire if the members could do any work for the Society in or around the Centennial Hall.

Refreshments were served, and a pleasant social hour followed. The next regular meeting will be held in Centennial Hall, Tuesday, Aug. 6.

WHAT'S NEW IN WINFIELD

Recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Seaton was Mrs. Rhoda of Bognor, England. Mrs. Rhoda is on an extended tour of Canada and the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Berry have returned home following a few days vacation motoring through the Kootenays.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Berry have returned home from a few days spent at Vancouver.

Band Sgt. E. G. Batty of the RCE Band, Chilliwack, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Green.

Home from Christina Lake, B.C. to visit his father, Mr. A. McGarvie, who is a patient in the Kelowna General Hospital, is Mr. John McGarvie.

Eighteen members of the H-C Group and three guests accompanied by Counsellors Graham Dickie and Margaret Berry held a beach party on Woods Lake recently. It was the last meeting until fall. Games were played and a weiner roast enjoyed.

Prior to the picnic the H-C Group and choir members of the Winfield United Church met at the church to present a flite bag to student minister Graham Dickie who leaves shortly to attend Victoria College this autumn.

Westbank Couple Leave On Trip To London, Ont.

WESTBANK—Residents who left Wednesday for a two-months trip to his old home at London, Ont. and to visit a sister there, were Mr. and Mrs. Grieve Elliott, who travelled east by train.

Here for two weeks' stay with her parents is Mrs. H. S. Hewlett, of Prince George, who is accompanied by her children, Philip, Barbara and the twins Vi and Vern.

Mr. and Mrs. William McCullough, of Penticton River, with their three little girls are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stephenson.

Holidaying at Westbank are Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hull (nee Lola Kneller) and their three children. Staying with Mr. and Mrs. A. Munk, the family plans travelling to Vancouver and the Seattle World Fair before returning to their home at Terrace.

Misses Pearl and Frances Griffin returned recently from a trip that took them as far south as the Mexican border. Mrs. Fred Griffin Sr. accompanied her daughter Frances when the latter returned to her duties at Calgary.

Miss Grace Kramer, training in psychiatric nursing at Essondale Mental Hospital, spent a couple of days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Kramer early this week. Returning to the coast Wednesday, Grace was driven back by Mr. and Mrs. Kramer.

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Kasubuchi and Donna, and Mrs. K. Jyobu, all of Vancouver, were guests during the holiday weekend of Mr. and Mrs. J. Jyobu, Westbank.

Mrs. Frank Cornish has returned home from Kelowna General Hospital with her baby daughter, Marianne, born June 25.

Also home from Kelowna hospital is Mrs. Patrick Higgs and her son, Clarence Thomas Lee, born June 26.

Staying with Mrs. Betty Charlsh and son Kenny during the holiday weekend were Mrs. Mona Penfold and daughter Joanne. They were accompanied by the former's mother, Mrs. Jean Pugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fenlon and family visited Mr. Fenlon's sister, Mrs. Ron Smithurst at Naramata during the holiday weekend.

Here for the weekend camping at Shady Rest were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hewlett and family, of Kamloops. They

Mission Bride Gives Bouquet To Grandfathers at Ceremony

A wedding of much interest in the Valley took place at 7 p.m. on Saturday, June 30, at St. Andrew's Church, when Rev. J. E. W. Snowden united in marriage Roberta Christine Sarsons, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Sarsons, Lakeshore Road, and David George Stone Withers, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Withers, East Kelowna.

The church was beautifully decorated with arrangements of peonies, shasta daisies and delphiniums. Organist was Mrs. T. Hill, who, during the signing of the register, sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a full length peau-de-sele model, with boat neck, lily point sleeves. The full skirt, featured a plain panel in front. A coronet of seed pearls done in a flower and leaf design held a white net chapel veil, consisting of four scalloped tiers of the net. She carried a cascade of red roses from which fell white ribbons with red rose buds at the end.

Maid of honor was Miss Judy Sarsons, sister of the bride, and bridesmaid was Miss Louise Wostradowski of Rutland. They were gownned alike in aqua peau-de-sele street-length sheaths. Their hats were white, featuring the seed pearl flowers and leaves in the bride's coronet. Gloves and shoes were white. They carried bouquets of small white chrysanthemums, arranged with yellow ribbons, feathers and small butterflies.

Best man was Mr. Greg. Withers. Ushers were Mr. Harvey Withers and Mr. Ben Gant of Kelowna. Ring bearer was Master Roddy Sarsons, younger brother of the bride.

For the reception held at the home of the bride's parents, the bride's mother chose a smart sheath dress in grey tone, patterned with pink and beige flowers. Her hat was beige straw and stiffened net. Accessories were entone. Her corsage was of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a white sheath dress with navy blue quarter length coat. Her small hat was of fluffy white net, and her corsage was of pink roses.

The bride's table had an ecru lace cloth on which stood the three tiered wedding cake beautifully decorated by a friend. It was flanked by white tapered silver candlesticks. Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Robert Spall, uncle of the bride. This was ably responded to by the groom. Toast to the bridesmaids was proposed by Mr. Greg. Withers, to which Mr. Harvey Withers replied. Telegrams were read from Quebec and Regina. The bride divided her bouquet between the two grandfathers Mr. J. Spall and Mr. F. Withers.

and Mrs. A. Peet all of Vancouver.

Banff, the bride changed to a shrimp-toned sheath dress, with white coat and hat to match. She wore shrimp gloves and scarf, and purple orchid corsage. On their return the newlyweds will reside at Brookside Ave., Kelowna.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carr and family of South Burnaby; Miss Sharon Hopkins and Mrs. McLean of Peace River; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Withers and family of North Surrey; Miss Diane Wilkinson, Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. F. Fischer of Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. A. Sarsons and family of Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Murphy and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. Grant and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. Withers and family, Mr. F. Withers (grandfather).

The Mackenzie River proper stretches 1,200 miles from Great Slave Lake to the Arctic without a break in navigation.

Rutland Social Notes

Mr. and Mrs. John Calhoun have moved to the Beigo district, where they have taken up residence in the former home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Teibler.

Mr. Verne Burnell was down from Prince George for the holiday weekend to visit his parents Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Burnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Weisbeck have sold their "Creek-side" auto court, and home, on Mill Creek, to Mr. G. Russo of Olyama, who has already taken possession. Mr. and Mrs. Weisbeck are residing at present in a house on Ponto Road, and will move later to the Beigo district, where they are constructing a new house on part of the Fahlman property.

Mrs. Mervyn Hunter of Belleville, Ont., and her three young children, are visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. M. Campbell, on Ponto Road. They will be joined next week by Flight Lt. Mervyn Campbell, who is stationed with the RCAF at Trenton, Ont., and who is a son of Mr. Sam Hunter of Rutland.

Mrs. H. C. Comben, of Calgary, and her two daughters Shanda and Calla, are visiting Mrs. Comben's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Trimmer.

TOP ECHELON OVMA CHAT

Among the delegates to attend the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association meeting in Penticton Thursday were, left to right, Counc. Paddy Hill, Coldstream; chairman Harry Carter, Oliver Village Commission; Ald. John Coe, Penticton; and Reeve A. B. Ritchie, Salmon Arm. More than 60 civic officials met to discuss resolutions to be presented to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities in Kamloops in September, and Premier Bennett's proposed increased home owners' grant. —(Penticton Herald photo by Dave Clark.)

Stretcher-Equipped Cars For Police Urges OVMA

VERNON (Staff) — RCMP highway patrol vehicles will be outfitted with stretchers to enable them to convey seriously injured people to hospitals, if Okanagan Valley Municipal Association delegates have their way.

At a meeting of the association yesterday in Penticton, a Kamloops resolution was passed which recommended to the doctor's workshop is the main item of B.C. Municipalities to petition the government of B.C. in the death rate of the wound to instruct police to so equip-their cars and transport injured people to hospitals if no ambulances are readily available. The resolution used as an example Canadian Army records where 1,000 soldiers wounded in action and reached hospital, only 114 died in the first world war; 66 in the second world war, and only 34 in Korea. Safe and speedy evacuation to the doctor's workshop is the main item of B.C. Municipalities to petition the government of B.C. in the death rate of the wound to instruct police to so equip-

Peachland Gas Claim Plea Shelved By Municipalities

VERNON (Staff) — Peachland claim on Inland Natural Gas for failure to serve the community was shelved quietly at the meeting of Okanagan Valley Municipal Association yesterday in Penticton.

Reeve C. O. Whinton, of Peachland, who travelled to Victoria and a meeting with Public Utilities Commission officials learned the village had no signed franchise with Inland and could make no demand for service despite a recent referendum which was passed by the electorate.

A Penticton resolution, which was tabled from 1961, asking that all cities now buying wholesale power and distributing it for sale to consumers be allowed to continue in the event of a government take over, met with delegation approval.

Penticton Mayor Maurice Finerty said cities should be protected and their rights preserved if the government took took over West Kootenay Light and Power Co. as it did the B.C. Electric. (Penticton and Kelowna are two of the larger cities in the Okanagan distributing electrical power with a profit to the city. Vernon is serviced by B.C. Hydro Authority and has no control over the distribution.)

TIMING WRONG
Mayor R. F. Parkinson of Kelowna said the resolution was "good and necessary" but he challenged the timing.

"If we pass this resolution," Mayor Parkinson said, "We might just stir things up again."

Ald. Doug. Stuart of Penticton said: "If the government decides to take over West Kootenay as it did the B.C.E. they will do so in one week. Nothing we say or do is likely to have any effect except we should make a point now."

The resolution was passed and will be presented to the UBCM in Kamloops in September.

FROM PAGE ONE

'Greatest OVMA Fight Yet'

Mayor Finerty said it will make it doubly difficult to develop payrolls and "any municipality that pussyfoots on issues so disastrous as this should resign."

Other communities agreed higher taxation would be necessary. Kamloops would be forced to boost 13 mills or 25 per cent on commercial and rental properties. Said the mayor of North Kamloops: "We too have to face the electorate . . . let's tell the premier as this is probably the greatest fight any municipality or municipal group has had on its hands in history."

Peachland would be forced to increase tax rates 12 mills according to Reeve C. O. Whinton. Salmon Arm councillor A. Stevens said it would hurt farmers who already were buying greater proportion of taxes than any other occupation.

While all municipal heads said such homeowner grants would be harmful to the cities of British Columbia, Ald. A. Jackson of Kelowna, suggested the matter be left to the UBCM executive and the OVMA should not express an official opinion.

He said: "This matter is now under careful study by UBCM executive who have hired professional help for a thorough review of municipal financing. We have all concluded a lot of things wrong with the homeowner grant long before the premier's latest proposal. The executive July 20 at New Westminster will prepare a report for the UBCM convention at Kamloops in September," he said.

ONE VOICE
Mr. Parkinson said a resolution already a good many have decided

AIDS TO HOMEOWNERS

Separate Heating Zones Help Save Fuel In Home

QUESTION: We are having a split level house built. Separate thermostats have been recommended for the living and sleeping quarters ("heating zones"). I believe. Does this result in saving fuel?

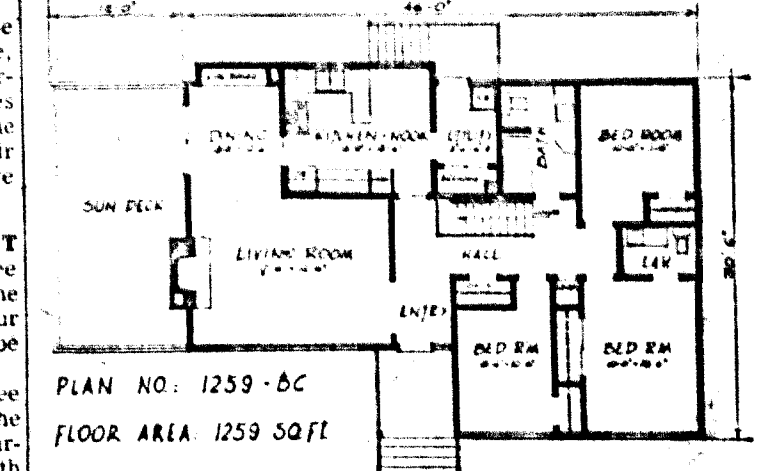

ANSWER: Yes. Fuel savings result from zone heating because no heat is wasted; each area is kept at the most comfortable temperature for that particular area and unequal heat requirements are met for various parts of the house; adequate heat is supplied without overheating an area needing less heat.

SHELLAC ON GLASS
QUESTION: We refinished the insides of our window frames with shellac. In several places, we got some on the panes. How can we remove the shellac from the glass?

ANSWER: Try removing this with a razor blade. Or the shellac can be softened with denatured alcohol, then easily wiped off with a cloth or fine steel wool.

ROOF PIGEON NUISANCE
QUESTION: Our detached garage has a flat roof and seems to attract too many pigeons, creating a mess on the surrounding areas as well as the roof. Is there any way to get rid of the pigeons?

ANSWER: Yes. A preparation to be sprayed over the roosting

ALL TOP FEATURES

Here is a home that incorporates all the features of which a home owner dreams. Enter through an attractive entry hall, turn left to the popular L shaped living dining area. Living room features an outside wall fireplace which allows plenty of scope for furniture arrangement. See the built-in side board in the dining room and the panoramic sliding doors to the sun deck. Kitchen has the step-saving U formation for cupboards, built-in range top, and double stainless steel sinks. Plenty of space for family meals in the efficient planned kitchen, too, and right next door a full sized utility room for the family laundry and a king-sized broom closet for storing the cleaning equipment. Bedrooms are well sized, featuring plenty of closet space, while the master bedroom shows plumbing "en suite." Open stairwell to the full basement is off the hall. Our elevation shows a carport, but this could be a garage with a deck over. This is truly a wonderful home. Blueprints of this plan—designed for FHA financing are available from the Building Centre (B.C.) Ltd., 116 East Broadway, Vancouver 10. Write for free plan book (enclose 25c to cover cost of mailing and handling.)

Cleaning Tools Deserve To Be Spotless As Well

When you're finished with house cleaning, or any other big overall cleaning job, don't forget to clean the tools you used.

Give them proper care and they'll remain residents in good standing of your cleaning supply closet for many seasons to come.

THEY'LL DISINTEGRATE
Neglect them, after they've done a grime-rout job, and it won't be long ere they will be incinerator-bound, for left in soil or residue from cleaning solutions, causing rapid disintegration.

Luckily, one good old standby, namely sal soda concentrate, does an excellent job of rejuvenating cleaning tools.

Take your mop, for example. Let it stand overnight in a bucket of hot water to which you've added a quarter of a pound package of sal. After rinsing next morning, you can be sure that all the soil has been soaked out.

SOAK THEM FIRST
Your various scrub brushes may be soaked overnight, too, in a sal soda solution. But see to it that the water is cold, as hot water affects the bounce of the bristles. Just add a pinch of detergent along with the sal. Rinse well in the morning and put the brushes to dry with bristles turned up or sideways—never down.

Brushes should be stored in

IT'S THIRSTY WORK IN OKANAGAN

Young Bernard Frost, 12, of 2820 Pandosy Street, Kelowna, takes a manly swig
at his bottle of pop in an effort to assuage a thirst derived from Okanagan sunsoaking. Bernard, a regular

Kelowna's Pride and Joy Is Its Famous Regatta

Kelowna and the Okanagan Valley in its entirety, is truly one of the most beautiful of British Columbia's many "Evergreen Playgrounds."

The pride of all Kelownians is not embodied solely in its civic environment alone, but in its most talked about, much publicized Annual Regatta, rated as "Canada's Greatest Water Show."

The annual water extravaganza goes back as far as 1906 to a show that attracted more than 500 persons. Town fathers realized the show would be a welcome event in the heat of the summer, and continued planning has driven it to great heights, attracting as many as 100,000 spectators to witness the spectacular four-day affair.
This year's show should draw an even greater crowd with the opening of the new Rogers Pass
Highway and the Century 21
Exposition in Seattle.
Outstanding aquatic events and facilities, a giant midway, and a beautiful park, are only a few of the attributes to the fun and frolic derived by the many local citizens and tourists from many distant points who flock to the "Orchard City" under beautiful summer skies, to participate in the great water spectacle.

A main feature of the Regatta is the Lady-of-the-Lake Pageant, comprised of several local feminine beauties, each with tongue

In check and a great desire to reign as Queen of the Regatta, as well as a goodwill ambassador of our beautiful city.

Another outstanding feature of the four-day show is the evening grandstand entertainment featuring many world-famous travels. Last year's show highlighted the world famous acrobatist Dick Contino and his group performing during the twilight stand.

This outstanding water spectacular has featured many of the continent's greatest aquatic stars and Olympic divers and swimmers, participating in such scheduled events as the Canadian Northwest Diving Championships, Western Canada Water Ski Championships,
Canadian Northwest Swimming Championships, and many other professional pool events.

Two acts for this year's evening grandstand shows have been signed by the Regatta Committee.

Miss Jan Lejon and her Caribbean Nights Revue will appear at this year's show. The group is a 10-member, singing-dancing instrumental act featuring authentic island folk songs. The group has appeared in many large U.S. cities and West Indian clubs.

The Northernaires, a group
hailing from Camrose, Alta., who have received good reviews from television columnists for their material, presentation and diversified range, will also be on hand for the twelfth

show.
Don A. Columbia, President of A. C. Regatta will be Chairman for this year's Regatta.
President Bonnett will officiate at the opening ceremony, and host many other prominent personnel on the opening day, Aug.
10, and who will remain in Kelowna for the remainder of the Regatta.

Pretty Girls In Plenty Sign Of Summer Skating

By KAY DAVIES

If you should pass by the arena and see pretty girls wearing skates basking on the lawn outside Centennial Hall, you are seeing evidence of the sixth annual Summer School for Skaters.

On Saturday, June 30, a plane-load of 20 girls arrived in Kelowna and converged on the home of Gordon Smith, arena manager, much to the delight of his teenage son. There, Mrs. Connie Smith had a lovely backyard meal for them.

After turkey and trimmings, the girls headed for the "Dorm," their summer home in Centennial Hall. Up to 46 girls at once will be under the watchful eye of Mrs. Pauline Davies, better known to myself and to this year's girls, as "Mom."

To tempt the taste buds of tired skaters, Mrs. Jean Beck reigns in the kitchen.

MY PRO SAYS...

If "Mom" and Jean reign in the sleeping-eating quarters, they have little authority once the girls are on the ice. There the bosses are Miss Winnie Silverthorne, the head pro, and her staff of professional skaters, Shirley Ingham, Margaret Head, Joan Huber, Sharon Adams (new bride of hockey player Art Lariviere), Elyane Stenemann and Elsie Busch.

"But my pro says..."

The summer school lasts until August 26, and is for hard-working skaters to further their attempts at achieving the peak

In skating perfection.

Such a favorite was the arena manager with the girls last year that several of them called him "Dad." So, between Mom, Dad, Jean and Winnie, this year's summer school should be a huge success. Good luck, girls!

PARK AMENITIES PLENTIFUL IN KELOWNA

First You Buy A Boat Then Learn To Use It

With thousands of families buying a first boating rig this summer, learning to operate the craft safely is the next important step.

The reason that there are few boating accidents each season—even with the large numbers of pleasure craft plying the waterways—is that boatmen are, in the great majority, a conscientious group. They take the time to learn the rules of the road and then to practise them.

The owner of a new rig, however, will want to know what is expected of him. Boatmen, to the uninitiated, sometimes seem to have a code of their own. The exact significance of buoys, for instance, is lost on the person who previously has had no need to use them.

Other questions are: What are these "rules of the road"? What items, by law, is the boatman required to carry as part of his boating gear?

None of these items is very complicated. Once the novice has had them explained they are easy to remember. Even setting aside the all-important safety considerations, knowing that your boat is properly equipped and knowing how you should navigate your craft under various circumstances before actually taking the first cruise, gives the extra confidence which allows full enjoyment of your new pastime.

Just as in ladies' clothes, buoys come in basic colors. The basic colors, buoy-wise, are red and black. Actually, there are buoys which are red and white, but these variations should not be allowed to confuse. If the buoy has red on it, it should be kept on the starboard or right side of the boat when going upstream. Black markers are kept to port, or the left side of the boat, when progressing upstream. As an added precaution against wrong identification, buoys may be marked with even numbers and black buoys with odd.

A red buoy with a red flasher light marks the starboard limits of a channel entrance. A black buoy with a green or white flasher marks the port extremity. In brief, then, when navigating upstream the red buoy is kept to the starboard side, the black buoy to port.

Mastery of these rules, along with an understanding of the buoyage system, make short work of decoding that puzzling code of the sea.

Four Marksmen Cop Lead In Trapshoot Competition

EDMONTON (CP) — Eighteen Vera Holdsworth of Calgary took the early lead in this grouped according to ability. The event Thursday by shattering 97 starting at Class AA and going on to Class D.

The trapshooting champion of 199 birds, Mrs. Holdsworth, reached the halfway point in their four-day run.

The top title to be won is the Canadian singles championship. The last four years, holds a two-bird lead over Mrs. Betty Cross, who won the title in 1967.

Four marksmen shared the early lead in the singles after breaking 99 of 100 birds in evening competition Thursday. They were followed closely by 11 other competitors.

Ron Baker of Calgary, Harvey Millard of Red Deer, Alta., Frank Opsal of Vancouver and Jack Wiley of Cloverdale, B.C., shot 99 Thursday.

Hard on their heels with 98s were Floyd Nattress of Edmonton, Harry Willis of Montreal, Tom McKinley of Edmonton, Harry Rempel of Vancouver, Stan Nelson of Fleet, Alta., and Joe St. Arnaud of Edmonton. Opsal and Nattress are former Canadian singles champions.

Five others were tied with 97. Competitors fire another 200 birds today to decide the singles champion.

Today's 200 targets also will decide the Canadian junior title. Bob Johnson of Lloydminster, Sask., defending champion, is favored.

TAKES EARLY LEAD

The Canadian women's crown will also be won today. Cham-

Stettler Rinks Steady In Midsummer Bonspiel

NELSON (CP) — Defending champion Les Isaman of Stettler, Alta., Thursday night scored two two-ends to down Nelson's Milt Ryalls 7-3 in the secondary event of Nelson's midsummer bonspiel competition.

Another Stettler rink, Tom Kroeger's foursome moved into the semi-finals of the secondary with a 1-27 win over W.E. Van Buskirk of Calgary on the strength of a four-ender in the fifth.

Lord of Davidson, Ont., 7-4.

Ed Carmichael of Alberni, last year's provincial playoff runnerup, downed Les Battle of Delia, Alta., 10-7.

In the fourth game of the semi-finals Edmonton's Ray Osbourne scored six times in the first six ends to edge Don Laver of Vancouver, 6-2.

In women's competition, defending champion Mrs. B.F. Robertson of Edmonton downed Mrs. I. Carlson of Cumberland, Ont., 10-3.

N. Churchill of Edmonton took an 8-0 lead in the first four ends to defeat Mrs. Phyllis Murray of Tompkins, Sask., 10-6.

Mrs. S.E. Moore of Seaford, Ont., downed Shirley Nelson of Nanton, Alta., 8-3 and Mrs. Beryl Clendenning of Devon, Alta., beat Mrs. B. Smith of Calgary 9-7.

Results: Men's Tertiary Second round—Earl Hunt, Fredericksen, 4, Hunt 12.

Hernandez Rated Boxer Of Month

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Carlos Hernandez' sensational one-round knockout of Paolo Rost has earned boxer-of-the-month honors for the hard-hitting Venezuelan lightweight in the latest National Boxing Association ratings released Thursday.

The ratings: Heavyweight: Champion, Floyd Patterson, New York. 1. Sonny Liston, Philadelphia; 2. Eddie Machen, Portland, Ore.; 3. Zora Folley, Chandler, Ariz.; 4. Ingemar Johansson, Sweden; 5. Cleveland Williams, Houston; 6. Archie Moore, San Diego; 7. Henry Cooper, England; 8. Bob Cleroux, Montreal; 9. Alejandro Lavorante, Argentina; 10. Cassius Clay, Louisville.

Light Heavyweight: Champion, Harold Johnson, Philadelphia. 1. Eddie Sotom, Seattle; 2. Eric Schoepner, Germany; 3. Doug Jones, New York.

Middleweight: Champion, Gene Fullmer, West Jordan, Utah. 1. Dick Tiger, Nigeria; 2. Paul Pender, Brookline, Mass.; 3. Terry Downes, England.

Welterweight: Champion, Emile Griffith, New York. 1. Ralph Dupas, New Orleans; 2. Luis Rodriguez, Cuba; 3. Curtis Cokes, Dallas.

Junior Welterweight: Champion, Dullio Ioi, Italy.

Lightweight: Champion, Carlos Ortiz, New York. 1. Carlos Hernandez, Venezuela; 2. Doug Vaillant, Cuba; 3. Joe Brown, Houston.

Indians - Angels Share Lead American League Pennant Race

Don Dillard, fresh off the Cleveland bench, has fired a two-homer salvo, give the Indians a piece of the American League lead.

The 25-year-old outfielder came on as a late-inning substitute Wednesday and hit a grand-slam in the 13th inning for a 6-2 victory over Detroit Tigers. Thursday night he replaced the injured Al Luplow and slammed the game-winner with two out in the ninth for Sox.

The latest victory engineered by the light-hitting left-handed swinger overcame a three home run performance by the Tigers' Rocky Colavito and carried the Indians into a first-place tie with Los Angeles Angels, who were not scheduled.

In the only other AL game, Jackie Brandt and Jim Gentile led Baltimore Orioles to a 5-4 decision over Chicago White Sox.

A pair of homers by Chuck Weatherstone accounted for all of Vancouver's runs as the Mounties took the series at Spokane 3-1.

The San Diegos stepped out of the league Thursday night for an exhibition game with an all-star team of the class C Pioneer League—won 22-14 by the Padres—but found today their lead in the Pacific Coast circuit extended to two full games, and the credit was due to Kern and his Beavers.

Kern, who played left field and third base, cracked two homers good for four runs and scored the winning run in the 11th inning as the Beavers dropped second-place Salt Lake City 5-4 in the abbreviated PCL schedule.

VANCOUVER WIN

Vancouver beat Spokane 3-2 in another PCL contest and Tacoma beat Hawaii 2-1 in 10 innings at Honolulu.

Seattle downed the parent Boston Red Sox 4-0 in an exhibition game called after five innings by a heavy rainstorm.

Kern hit his first homer in the bottom of the second but Salt Lake held a 4-1 margin after five innings, with Tony Washington and Jim Lawrence pounding round-trippers for Bees. Kern tied it with a three-run homer in the sixth and won it in the 11th, scoring from first on a double after being hit by a pitched ball.

Dillard, hitting .191 before 6-6 tie that Dillard broke to give the triumph to Bill Dalley (1-0). Luplow and John Romano also homered for the Indians. The White Sox built a 4-1 lead against Jack Fisher by the fourth inning, but could get only one hit thereafter against Hal Brown (4-2) and Wes Stock. Brandt made it 4-2 with a homer in the seventh, then doubled to drive home the clincher in a three-run eighth inning rally after Gentile knocked in a pair with a bases-loaded single. Frank Baumann (1-3) took the loss.

NEARLY MAKES HISTORY

Continuing a rampage in which he has hit at .380 clip for the last month with 11 homers and 29 runs batted in, Colavito connected in the fourth, fifth and seventh after grounding out his first time up. In the eighth, with a chance to become the first player in baseball history to hit four homers twice, the Tigers' slugger lashed a long foul before grounding out. Colavito hit four consecutive homers June 10, 1959.

Colavito's third homer—his 20th of the year—created the Soviet Girls Lead World Gymnasts

PRAGUE (AP) — The Soviet Union Thursday led host Czechoslovakia after completion of the four compulsory exercises in the women's division in the 15th gymnastics world championships.

The four Soviet girls had 190.461 points, followed by the strong Czechoslovak team with 188.562 points.

Larissa Latintina, Galina Arshonova, Irina Pervukhina, Tamara Manina, Sofia Muratova and Lidia Ivamova, all of the Soviet Union, got highest scores in all four events.

Japan's women are third with 186.861 points, but experts give the Japanese girls little chance to improve their standing substantially in Saturday's voluntary exercises.

Canada was in 16th place with 160.693 points, immediately behind Israel and ahead of Cuba.

Laver Wins Men's Singles At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON (Reuters)—Rod Laver stroked his way to a 6-2, 6-2, 6-1 victory over fellow-Australian Marty Mulligan today to win the men's singles title at the Wimbledon tennis championships for the second consecutive year.

The left-handed Laver had little trouble with his unseeded opponent, only the fourth unranked player ever to reach the men's singles final here. The defending champion was the top seed.

Laver's victory took him another big stride on the way to completing a tennis "grand slam"—winning the Australian, French, British and American titles. He now has won the first three and added the Italian championship for good measure.

Dodgers Hitting Giants With Terrific Punch

It's their usual style to dazzle the National League opposition with speed and footwork. But for a change of pace, the streaking Los Angeles Dodgers can slug with a heavyweight punch.

For example, they rolled to an 11-3 romp Thursday in the opener of the big mid-season four-game series at San Francisco, pounding out a 14-hit attack that included four homers as they won their seventh straight and boosted their lead over the Giants to a game and a half.

It was the Dodgers' fourth

Victory in five meetings this season with their up-coast rival—and prime pennant challenger—and the winners made it a runaway with a touch of just about everything. There was the long-ball belting, the base running magic, nifty defense and high on the list, another star performance by premier right-hander Don Drysdale.

The strong-armed speedballer quelled the lusty Giant batters on eight hits and won his 15th, tops in the majors. Drysdale's chief support came from Tommy Davis, Frank Howard, Ron Fairly and Willie Davis, who counted four homers among their total of nine hits.

PIRATES WIN ANOTHER

In the NL's only other game, Alvin McBean threw a five-hit, six-run performance that blanked Philadelphia Phillies 5-0 for their seventh victory in a row and the Phillies' eighth straight loss.

The Dodgers clipped left-fielder Willie Davis and six of their runs in the first five innings, then continued the rout against relievers Jim Duffalo and Don Larsen.

Fairly started the long-range blasting with his homer in the second, then in the third Willie Davis connected for No. 13 with a man on and Howard's single, a walk and a single by John Roseboro pushed the Dodgers ahead 4-0. Tommy Davis hit his 15th homer in the fifth and Howard promptly followed with his 10th.

Against Duffalo in the seventh, Willie Davis reached first on an error and stole second, Tommy Davis singled and stole second, Howard hit a sacrifice fly and Fairly singled for two more runs. Larsen surrendered three more as the Dodgers added a triple by Larry Burdick, a double by Roseboro, a single and stolen base by Marvyn Wills and singles by Willie Davis and Fairly.

DRYSDALE IN COMMAND

Behind this versatile offense, Drysdale shored him way along handily, striking out eight—including Orlando Cepeda three times and Willie Mays twice—and walking just one. His chief troublemaker was Willie McCovey, who homered and singled.

Dief Joins Mormons In Marking Birthday

CARDSTON, Alta. (CP) — Mormon community for its own Prime Minister Diefenbaker, in tribute to irrigation on the day of the June 18 federal election, joined a crowd of more than 500 Wednesday night in celebrating the seventh anniversary of the settlement of the Mormon town of Cardston, a town of 2,700, was settled in 1887 by a group of 41 Mormons from Utah led by Charles Card, after whom the town was named.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the Mormon pioneer spirit was a unique and special spirit after a nine-hour trip from Ottawa, congratulating the settlement of the province.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

QUIZ
You are the dealer, neither side vulnerable. What would you bid with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠KQ7 ♥AKJ10 ♦AQJ ♣AQ3
2. ♠AK972 ♥6 ♦75 ♣AJ843
3. ♠AKJ9734 ♥6 ♦3 ♣K52
4. ♠KJ3 ♥AJ5 ♦AJ94 ♣AQ3
5. ♠AQ83 ♥AQ83 ♦3 ♣AQ83

1. Three notrump. That is the most illuminating bid possible. The opening three notrump bid shows 23 to 27 points, notrump distribution and strength in all suits. Advertising as it does such enormous high-card power, the bid invites partner to try for a slam with only moderate strength.

The alternative opening bid of two hearts does not deliver nearly so precise a message, regardless of how it is followed up. Furthermore, it courts the danger that partner, with a weak hand, will become declarer at notrump. Generally, it is better for the strong hand to remain concealed.

2. One club. The usual policy is to bid the higher-ranking of two five-card suits first, but an exception is made when the suits are spades and clubs. The purpose is to save bidding space by starting low.

If, over a club, partner responds a diamond or a heart, it becomes possible to show the second suit in the one level. This could not be done if the first bid were a spade. In fact, it would be necessary to go to the three level to show the second suit if partner responded in diamonds or hearts over one spade.

3. Four spades. There is no point to fooling around with such hands. If partner has a good hand, he will know what to do, since the preempt announces a string of good spades and limited high-card values. Both these features are present here.

If partner has a bad hand, it means the opponents are loaded and can probably make 11 or more tricks with their best suit as trump. If this turns out to be the case, they may have trouble finding their best spot in the limited amount of bidding space left for them.

4. One diamond. The hand is too good for a notrump (16 to 18 points) and not good enough for two notrump (22 to 24 points). The in-between hands (19, 20 or 21 points) are opened with one of a suit. The big bid comes later by jumping in notrump. If partner passes a diamond, showing zero to five points, you are high enough.

5. One club. Hands with 4-4-4-1 distribution are generally opened in the suit beneath the singleton. Again, economy of bidding space is the reason. If the bidding were opened with a spade or a heart, it would become difficult to show all three suits without climbing to a high level. The club opening permits the suits to be shown cheaply.

Japan Invited To Invest In U.S.

TOKYO (AP) — The Kennedy administration has invited Japan to invest in building factories in the United States.

The invitation was announced by the Japanese foreign ministry and confirmed by a spokesman for the U.S. embassy.

Wichita, Kan., Wilmington, N.C., Maine, New Jersey and areas on the west coast were mentioned as regions where industrialization might be expanded with Japanese funds.

Such a development would help correct a U.S. adverse balance of payments situation, sources said. Japanese exports to the United States last year totalled nearly $1,500,000,000. Imports from the United States totalled $1,200,000,000.

South Korea has more than 800,000 fishermen who take in an average of 300,000 tons of fish yearly.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Planetary restrictions continue. Avoid quarrelling and intolerance, and don't expect much from social or romantic interests. Be calm in your dealings with others and, in all pursuits, stick to routine.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, this next year in your life promises important gains if you exercise initiative and are willing to forego some immediate personal desires in the interest of more lasting benefits.

Both job and financial gain are indicated late this month, in September and November (two all-around good months); also in late December and the first three months of 1963.

Special recognition for creative workers is due in September and/or November.

Social activities and travel should prove highly enjoyable in September, December and January and both this month and November will be excellent for romance.

Avoid extravagance and speculation in August and October, and look for some good news of a business nature in January.

A child born on this day will be practical, methodical and domestically inclined.

Cupar Hospital Open Has No Doctors, Patients

CUPAR, Sask. (CP) — Cupar Hospital is open, it has staff and equipment, but no patients and no doctor.

Cupar, 50 miles northeast of Regina, has a brick and cement hospital, opened in 1959. It has 13 beds, four nurses, four ward aides, a janitor, a cook, a part-time laundress and cleaning woman.

But Cupar's Dr. D. H. Haworth is on holidays, along with many of Saskatchewan's 900-member College of Physicians and Surgeons, which has bitterly opposed the compulsory public medical care insurance plan that went into effect Sunday.

The doctors are providing only emergency treatment at 34 designated hospitals.

Normal practice for most Saskatchewan doctors ended Sunday, with the start of the medical care insurance plan. Dr. Haworth stayed one day later to deliver the baby of Mrs. Rose Donnell.

LAST-PATIENT LEAVES

Since Sunday, Mrs. Donnell and her baby boy have been the only patients. She was leaving today.

Dr. Haworth, who had his normal holidays last winter when he went to Mexico, took a leave of absence. The acting hospital matron, Cupar housewife Mrs. Edna Nord, said he did not indicate when he would be back.

Dr. Haworth, a English doctor, practised in Alberta before coming to Cupar seven years ago.

Mrs. Gladys Jones, wife of an army career man stationed in West Germany, left her matron's position for a five-week vacation in her native Ireland. Mrs. Nord said Wednesday she was apprehensive about being in charge of the hospital without a doctor.

PROVIDES FIRST AID

"The first night I sat up and read a first aid book right through," she said. All the hospital can provide is first aid.

Since Dr. Haworth left, one boy, whom the nurses thought might be suffering from a kidney ailment, has been sent to Regina, the nearest emergency doctor service centre.

Another boy was treated, but had come under instructions from Dr. Haworth to have bandages on his burns changed. He had been discharged from the hospital last week, along with all the other patients.

Cupar, with a population of about 550, has a district about 200 square miles—green farming land—which its hospital serves.

The hospital is financed by the provincial government. Under the compulsory hospital insurance plan in effect in the province since 1948, the government has guaranteed financial backing to all hospitals during the doctor strike.

U.S. Tells European Allies On New H-Arms Safeguard

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has informed its European allies of the successful development of a new, secret electronic lock which will be used to reinforce safeguards against the accidental or unauthorized firing of nuclear weapons.

President Kennedy is expected to ask Congress soon for an appropriation of funds to complete work on the device, start manufacture and begin installation in nuclear weapons.

The allies were told through the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, it was learned, that the new electronic lock will broaden the margin of safety in nuclear weapons control systems and strengthen the exercise of direct control over weapons by top commanders. U.S.

officials said the development of increasingly secure control systems becomes more important as the number of weapons increases.

The locking device already is perfected for the larger nuclear weapons such as those warheads deployed in the European NATO area for use on medium range ballistic missiles.

USES RADIO SIGNAL The device is described as an electro-mechanical system controlled by a radio signal to be sent from a command headquarters remote from the actual missile site.

In effect, the device in its normal position makes a break in the electrical circuit necessary to the firing of the nuclear warhead. It couldn't be fired until an authorized commander dispatched the necessary coded radio signal that would operate the device.

The device itself would not do the firing but it would control the "arming" of the warhead. This is comparable to cocking a rifle in advance of firing it by pulling the trigger.

Associates said that Kennedy has put heavy emphasis on the need to surround nuclear weapons with a variety of safeguards.

Under U.S. law only the president can authorize the actual use of atomic weapons for combat—or indeed for testing.

Tommy's Edge Canadians

Three soldiers from 1st Battalion Royal Welch Fusiliers of the British Army at Camp Wainwright, Alta., cross the finish line of a gruelling nine-mile forced march competition to win the "Mounted Rifle" trophy from under the noses of their Canadian counterparts of 11 Canadian Infantry Brigade Group. The Welshmen did the cross-country course, which includes field-firing, in 2 hours and 13 minutes. Platoon must all cross the finish-line together and have all their equipment with them. Blazing prairie sun made the march the toughest in three years. In second place was a platoon from 2nd Battalion Queen's Own Rifles of Canada from Calgary, Alta., with a time of two hours, 20 minutes, and third were 1st Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry from Victoria, B.C. with a time of two hours, 26 minutes.

$2,400,000 MAY BE HIS

Gambler Can Make Loot Just Can't Enjoy It..

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — Police picture gambler Joseph (the Newsboy) Moriarty as a shabby, nickel-nursing loner with a gift for acquiring money but no knack for enjoying it.

They believe he is the owner of a $2,400,000 cash hoard found by accident in the trunk of an abandoned auto here Tuesday. Moriarty, 52, bookie and numbers racket operator now doing a two to three-year term in New Jersey State Prison on a gambling conviction, isn't saying.

He has shown an amazing indifference to money on previous occasions when it might have involved him legally.

Several years ago he was shot. He drove himself to a hospital and checked himself in. Police went through his blood-smeared car and found $3,000 cash in it.

"It's not mine," Moriarty said. "I never saw it before." The background of the incident was not disclosed.

On another occasion, detectives picked him up on a policy charge as he stood beside an auto. In the car was $11,000. "I don't have anything to do with it," he said with a shrug.

"It's not my car." He has abandoned hundreds of thousands of dollars," said James F. McDonald, deputy chief of Jersey City Police referring to past incidents involving the gambler.

Moriarty started as a newsboy at the age of 13, selling papers around Journal Square in Jersey City.

It wasn't long before he discovered he could make far more money taking bets than by selling papers.

Since he made that discovery 39 years ago, he has been arrested 28 times on gambling charges and sentenced to three jail terms, including the one he is serving now. Previously he had served a two-month term and a one-year term.

He made big money from his gambling — police have estimated his operations totalled $10,000,000 a year in recent years — but he never seemed to derive much enjoyment from it.

Unlike the happy-go-lucky gamblers of fiction, Moriarty was pictured as a dour, ascetic man with few friends and little to say, except about his illnesses — some real and some imaginary.

When arrested last time, he had bottles of 10 different kinds of pills in his pockets.

He never went to nightclubs or lived high. He neither smokes nor drinks. If you owed him two cents, one acquaintance said, he'd haunt you till he collected it.

Hudson County Prosecutor Lawrence A. Whipple and three aides spent 15 minutes with Moriarty at the prison and told him of the find.

"You've just lost $2,500,000," Whipple said he told the prisoner.

"He listened deadpan," Whipple related, "then he said, 'you are telling me this, Mr. Prosecutor.' He would neither admit nor deny ownership of anything that was found. He said he would get a lawyer. He said he would consider making a statement' afterward."

The fortune at issue, ranging in denominations from $1,000 bills down to $5, was found Tuesday by two unidentified carpenters in the trunk of a 1947 Plymouth housed in a dilapidated garage.

The two carpenters meanwhile were reported to have filed claims against the fortune. Frank Munzy, 64, owner of the garage in which the cache was found, was considering a similar claim.
